

Use case 001: A user logs in

Basic course:

The system display the log in page. The both students and property owner to have an account so they can interact with each other while scouting out the houses or apartments. And does asks students and property owner to login and once they are logged in, it will give them fully access to their own profile and get for information about properties.

Alternative course:

The students or property owner forgot their login information, they can enter their email address to reset username or password.

User case 002: Search bar

Basic course:

Where students can search for property by entering zip code, state or by map. And while searching for property students can selection options where they can select square feet, budget price so on. Once students hit the search button it will show them their preferences they wanted to see. From there they can select the property they like and get for information.

Alternative course:

If students enter wrong information like zip code, state, it will show error message.